

Honors Lauren Jones

Jones • Wallace, Evansville's newest law firm, is proud to have Lauren Jones on their team. The founding partners of the six-lawyer firm are David Jones and Paul Wallace, who have 60 years of legal experience between them. The firm's philosophy is simple:

“Listen well to your clients, identify their needs, and stay focused on those needs.”

“We could not have created this law firm, opened it in the time frame required, and certainly not at the quality level we desired, without Lauren Jones. She was essential to our success and still is.”

—Paul J. Wallace,
Founding Partner,
Jones•Wallace

“Lauren is an exceptional individual, always professional and respected by her peers. She is a dedicated leader who stands out, while mentoring and encouraging others. Lauren is a wonderful role model for the paralegal profession.”

—Cathy D. Canny,
IPA Alliance Chair and
Indiana Paralegal Assoc.
President 2005-2007

“As Chief of Staff for the City Law Department, Lauren Jones shoulders a great deal of responsibility. From her work at code enforcement hearings to handling tort claims, we depend on Lauren to represent the City and its interests. She serves as a role model to other paralegals and helps raise the standard for the profession.”

—Mayor
Jonathan Weinzapfel

“Lauren has an intangible quality that makes you admire her professional persona. She has a passion for the profession that is unparalleled. I believe that Lauren is a person who works by example. She expects a lot from others, but she is more than willing to give twice what she expects. She has tremendous insight into the ethical side of the profession and is willing to share her knowledge and experience with her peers.”

—Edna M. Wallace, RP
IPA NFPA Primary/
Representative

“I have known Lauren Jones for the past four years. Not only is Lauren well respected throughout Indiana in her knowledge of ethics, but, as a Registered Paralegal, she is a role model for many of us in the Paralegal profession here locally. She often refers to raising the bar to promote the value and hard work of Paralegals; I cannot think of a more dedicated, hard-working and selfless advocate of the profession than Lauren Jones.”

—Luke Niekamp,
Intake Paralegal,
Indiana Legal
Services, Inc. Chair,
Paralegal Section of the
Evansville Bar
Association

“As President of the Indiana State Bar Association in 2000-2001, we passed changes to the admission requirements allowing paralegals to join the ISBA. I have had the pleasure of working with Lauren Jones and others to establish the Paralegal Committee to enhance paralegals' role in the Indiana legal system. Lauren has always been at the forefront of her profession to make the practice of law in Indiana not only better for paralegals, but also the clients we all serve. Congratulations Lauren.”

—E. Spencer Walton, Jr.

“Lauren Jones has been my youngest son Kraig's Sunday school teacher for approximately a year. Lauren and her husband David have been faithful and incredibly committed to their group of students in their endeavor to deliver the Word of God and display the compassion of Christ. Not only did they take the time to personalize their classroom through painting and decorating, but they have also taken the students to several off-ground activities.”

—Kevin Kappler,
Associate Pastor,
Abundant Life Church

“For the past few years I've had the opportunity to work closely with Lauren on code enforcement legal issues. Her client dedication and case preparedness are always there. She just exudes professionalism with a can-do attitude and it has truly been my pleasure to work with her.”

—Greg Bryant, Foreman,
Street Maintenance
Department,
City of Evansville

“I became acquainted with Lauren Jones about 18 years ago when I was a sergeant in Internal Affairs. She was David Jones' very pleasant and efficient legal assistant at that time. David eventually got smart enough to marry this lovely lady. I've never known her to be anything but highly professional, smart, and a pleasure to work with.”

—Police Chief Brad Hill

“Without Lauren's dedication, hard work and professionalism, paralegals would not be valued members of the Evansville Bar Association today.”

—Susan Helfrich,
EBA Executive
Director,
Retired-Evansville Bar
Association

Meet Lauren Jones

- Registered paralegal at Jones • Wallace, LLC
- Chief of Staff of the Law Department for the City of Evansville
- Member of the Board of Directors of the Indiana Paralegal Association and chair of the Ethics Committee
- Member of the National Federation of Paralegal Associations and the National Paralegal Association
- First chairperson of the Evansville Bar Association's paralegal section
- Recipient of the 2005 Evansville Bar Association President's Award
- Member of the Indiana State Bar Association
- ISBA Affiliate Membership Committee and ISBA Ethics Committee member
- Vice-chair on the EBA Paralegal Section Committee
- Volunteer for the Vanderburgh County Juvenile Court's Teen Court Program
- Sunday school teacher at Abundant Life Community Church in Newburgh
- Member of A Network of Evansville Women

JONES•WALLACE
ATTORNEYS

420 MAIN STREET • SUITE 1600 • EVANSVILLE, IN
(812) 402-1600 • WWW.JONESWALLACE.COM

